COUNCILLOR FAILS IN BID TO OPEN UP PUBLIC DEBATE AT COUNCIL MEETINGS

A SEATON councillor has failed in a bid to change the town council rules so that the public can have a greater say in council matters.

At the November meeting of Seaton Town Council, two members of the public tried to raise issues during the public discussion session on matters that were not included on the agenda.

But they were prevented from doing so by council chairman and Mayor Gaynor Sedgwick because the council's standing orders – the rules by which councillors have to follow – dictated that the public could only speak on agenda items.

by Philip Evans

Former chairman Bob Buskin, a regular attendee at council meetings, left that meeting in disgust, maintaining that during his chairmanship the public had been able to speak on all matters whether they were on the agenda or not.

At last week's full meeting Councillor Tony Woodman tabled an agenda proposition that the council's Standing Orders be changed to fall in line with Sidmouth Town Council in that members of the public be allowed to raise governed by the same standing orders that you now claim we must abide by. Yet, not once did he stop a member of the public from raising any issue he or she wanted. In fact, on many occasions he went that extra mile to allow people to express their opinions. That, Madam Chairman, is democracy at work and what so many fought and died for.

"Before someone says we will be here all night if this happens may I point out that this period would still be 15 minutes with the chairman's discretion to extend it if necessary. It would just allow members of the public to speak freely.

"Taking all this into account, I would propose that the 'Public Question Time' be changed to 'Public Speaking Time' and that standing order 1d be changed to read: 'Members of the public are permitted to make representations, answer questions and give evidence in respect of any matter which relates to the responsibilities of the town council or related to matters the council could influence.'"

Food bank fundraiser

■ SEATON & District Lions Club made two cheque presentations on Saturday during their Christmas table top sale. A total of £300 was raised for the Seaton Food Bank Appeal, with £200 being donated directly to the fund and a further £100 going to the Steve's News Londis store in Fore Street to be spent in the shop on goods for the cause. all matters relating to council business.

In an impassioned speech, Councillor Woodman, a former journalist, said he was raising the matter because he believed in "free speech".

He continued: "Just a month ago we all remembered those who paid the ultimate price to give us this and many other advantages and I don't believe the current situation in this council is what they fought for.

"Also as the world mourns the death of Nelson Mandela we should remember that he was a man who fought for freedom and non-oppression of anyone.

"We are here to represent and work on behalf of the people of this town and those people have a right to question what we as councillors are doing and tell us what they would like us to do.

Form of gagging

"I cannot accept any form of gagging people from speaking and this is what our current policy does. It deprives the residents of this town an opportunity to speak. There can be no doubt about that. Those who fought and died for our freedom would cringe at the thought.

"All we get is that our standing orders say this and our standing orders say that. Well, at a recent training session it was quite clear that John Vanderwolfe felt our standing orders, and, indeed our Code of Conduct, needed looking at and I believe it is time for a complete review of both.

"Furthermore, Madam Chairman, you have constantly used the workings of Sidmouth Town Council as an example of the way forward for us. If you really believe this is the case then you must agree that we adopt the Sidmouth arrangement in relation to the public speaking at a council meeting. East Devon District Council has also been looking at this subject with proposed changes.

"Our previous chairman, Councillor Peter Burrows, was Quotes of the week...

“ I CANNOT accept any form of gagging people from speaking and this is what our current policy does. It deprives the residents of this town an opportunity to speak. There can be no doubt about that. Those who fought and died for our freedom would cringe at the thought’

SEATON town councillor Tony Woodman attempting to get Standing Orders changed so that members of the public can speak on all Seaton council matters and not just those on the agenda.

“ THERE seems to be a divide between the Colyton parish councillors and the ones from Colyford. That's how it seems to us. If there was an application that affected Colyton as much as this one affects Colyford, the people of Colyford would turn out to support you’

Mrs Bonte Pocock, wife of Colyton Parish councillor Robin Pocock, claiming that Colyton parish councillors were not giving enough support to Colyford in the fight against the development of the green wedge.

“ THIS Christmas HALFF teams will do Christmas meals for children attending selected youth clubs in Millwey Rise and Exmouth, for older people in Axminster and for parents and their young children in Chard. Many of these people would not otherwise get a Christmas dinner and some may be spending Christmas alone’

Spokesperson Laura O'Rourke appealing for financial assistance for the Axminster based food charity HALFF, who need £5,000 by mid-January to be able to continue their work.

“ THERE is a wealth of knowledge among local people about the coast, the topography and history of the area and also the various activities that take place on and from the beach. It's important to take this into consideration so that any eventual proposals are not simply engineering solutions but something that enhances Sidmouth's beach appeal’

DEPUTY EDDC leader Andrew Moulding stressing the importance of including local knowledge in developing a new beach management plan for Sidmouth.

Depleted Tigers are well beaten

A DEPLETED Axminster Town line-up, missing five regulars, was well beaten 5-0 in the South-West Peninsula league clash at Totnes & Dartington on Saturday.

Tigers manager Gary Mcauley told View Sport: "It was a day to forget. It was a bit of scratch side we had out and I had to play people out of position, so it was always going to be a uphill task. But we move on - there are still plenty of points to play for."

AXMINSTER

Charity needs £5,000 to carry on

AN AXMINSTER charity will lose its headquarters and be forced to curtail most activities unless it raises £5,000 by mid-January.

Health and Local Food for Families (HALFF) has been credited with teaching people of all ages to cook healthy meals on a budget.

But HALFF has its own budget problems and is in desperate need of help.

HALFF spokesperson Laura O'Rourke said: "Our charity is in severe need of funds, otherwise we may not be able to afford premises next year."

"HALFF is in danger of having to give up its premises in South Street where it runs a fruit and veg shop and garden, and cooking and gardening sessions."

"This also serves as the charity's offices, so without the shop the future of the charity will be uncertain."

"We desperately need local donations to survive." HALFF director Tiggy Parry said that £5,000 must be raised by mid-January to make sure HALFF can remain in the South Street premises.

She also explained that many activities would have to be curtailed should the premises be lost.

Since setting up shop in South Street, HALFF has run courses for people with or at risk of heart disease, homeless teenagers, people who have been made redundant from Axminster Carpets and parents of young children.

Every month HALFF also cooks with children attending a Millway Rise youth group.

This Christmas HALFF teams will do Christmas meals for children attending selected youth clubs in Millway Rise and Exmouth, for older people in Axminster and for parents and their young children in Chard.

Laura added: "Many of these people would not otherwise get a Christmas dinner and some may be spending Christmas alone."

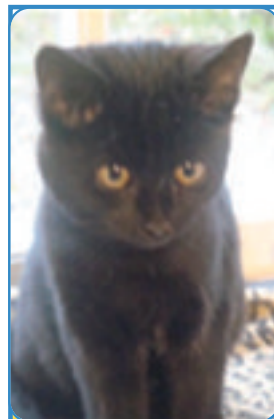

"All these activities are run by HALFF's very committed staff and volunteers"

"Over the years HALFF has also run courses in Bridgewater, Honiton, Sidmouth and Lyme Regis - to name a few."

Anyone interesting in donating money can find out more at www.localgiving.com/halff or by calling 01297 631782.

Laura said: "Every donation, however small, will make a difference. Donations over £10 given before Christmas through localgiving will qualify for an additional £10 matched donation. Although food affects everyone's health, we receive no funds from the government."

"Many people don't know how to provide a home cooked meal for their families - please help us to help them. Good food is so much more than just nutritious food. It affects our whole life."

From the editor's chair Festive fun to the fore!

AS I write this column we are well into the festive celebrations with all the principal towns in Pulman's Country having turned on their Christmas illuminations in the usual rumbustious fashion.

There's no better time for communities to come together than at this time of year as families turn out in force to celebrate the Christmas festival and our local business groups do their best to maximise the seasonal spirit.

I usually try to attend at least two of these events but this year have been unable to do so because they clashed with a major fundraising event I was organising in my home town.

But I'm pleased to hear from my reporters how well the Christmas events have gone right across Pulman's Country.

Mervyn Symes, who has served his home town of Axminster in so many ways over several decades, including being a former mayor and who fronts a number of the town's events, tells me that there was a real community spirit, one of the best he can remember, at the Festive Friday event in Trinity Square.

And at Seaton Town Council meeting on Monday, at which I attended, town mayor Gaynor Sedgwick paid tribute to all those who had worked so hard at the town's Christmas activities, including the turning on of the Christmas tree lights and the newly-introduced Santa Saunter.

After a difficult few months for the council, Councillor Sedgwick said the Christmas spirit had demonstrated how much Seaton could achieve if they all worked together rather against each other.

That's a view many will share. This week, we publish or annual Festive View in which we give comprehensive coverage to Christmas TV schedules (don't blame us for so many repeats!) and which includes our highly popular Christmas wordsearch, which offers a £100 prize.

Although Christmas falls awkwardly for our usual deadlines, we will be publishing right through the holiday period. Our next issue, which carries a Christmas Eve dateline, will be delivered to most outlets on December 23rd/24th and our New Year edition will be delivered on December 30th/31st.

It just remains for me to thank you all, readers and advertisers, for your continued support and to wish you all a peaceful Christmas.

COLYTON

Village divide over green wedge issue

A COLYFORD resident has expressed disappointment at the "lack of support" from Colyton parish councillors in fighting the proposed development of the green wedge between Colyford and Seaton.

Mrs Bonte Pocock, wife of parish councillor Robin Pocock, spoke about the "divide" between the village and Colyton at last week's parish council meeting.

She said she was disappointed at how few councillors had got involved with the campaign against the development of 170 houses, light industrial units and other facilities on land between Colyford and Seaton, both at East Devon planning meetings and fundraisers for the Seaton and Colyford Green Wedge Community Action Group, which has been raising money for a planning consultant to represent them at an appeal hearing for the proposed development, which was held last week and continues today (Tuesday).

Speaking in the public forum at last week's meeting, the night before the appeal hearing began, Mrs Pocock said: "What you probably won't know is the fact that I used to be on Musbury Parish Council when we first came here and I have always had an interest in local government and affairs. I have been very involved with Robin with this planning application and have been disappointed at how few Colyton parish councillors have come to our fundraising efforts and planning meetings."

"There seems to be a divide between the Colyton parish councillors and the ones from Colyford. That's how it seems to us."

"If there was an application that affected Colyton as much as this one affects Colyford, the people of Colyford would turn out to support you. Please come along over the next four days to show we are in this together."

Councillor Rodney Turner replied: "If that's the opinion felt in Colyford I'm quite disappointed. A lot of us work full time and are putting a lot of time into this community."

Council chairman Andrew Parr pointed out that he had been chosen by fellow members to attend the planning meetings at East Devon to represent all of them, so it had not been necessary for everyone to attend.

Councillor Bob Collier, chairman of the parish's planning committee, said he had not been able to get involved as he knew the landowners of the proposed site so he had a personal interest.

The appeal hearing for the original green wedge planning application, refused by East Devon District Council earlier this year, opened last Tuesday and was expected to finish on Friday but overran and will continue today (Tuesday) with a site meeting

SIDMOUTH

New plan for town's coastal defences

EAST Devon District Council has announced the start of a 12 month project to create a new Beach Management Plan for Sidmouth - designed to maintain and improve the town's coastal defences whilst enhancing the area as an attraction for beach-users.

The council is to spend an estimated £75,000 on a data-collection and options appraisal aimed at producing plans that could attract funding from a number of sources, including the Government.

The project is split into five stages: information gathering, baseline studies, issues, options and plan production. A key part of the process will be talking and listening to the community. This started last week when a preliminary meeting was held with representatives of the fishermen, sailing club and in-shore lifeboat.

There will be two special public engagement events - one in January and another later in the New Year, with dates to be confirmed.

The public will be invited to help in the information gathering phase of the project and then later will be able to comment on the alternatives from which a preferred option will be put forward to DEFRA.

The district council is tackling Sidmouth's coastal defence issues in partnership with Environment Agency, Devon County Council, Sidmouth Town Council, the South West Strategic Regional Coastal Monitoring Programme and the Cliff Road Action Group, following the setting up of a working group in 2011.

SEATON

Bid fails for more input from public

A SEATON councillor has failed in a bid to change the town council rules so that the public can have a greater say in council matters.

At the November meeting of Seaton Town Council, two members of the public tried to raise issues during the public discussion session on matters that were not included on the agenda.

He continued: "We are here to represent and work on behalf of the people of this town and those people have a right to question what we as councillors are doing and tell us what they would like us to do."

Councillor Sedgwick said she could not allow Councillor Woodman's proposal to be put to the meeting as the matter had been agreed at the October meeting and to change that decision they would have to wait six months to rescind.

Crime on the rise in Beer

THE level of crime in Beer has risen for a third successive year – with a total of 41 incidents recorded so far in 2013.

Reporting to Beer Parish Council, Police Constable Steve Speariett, who is the neighbourhood beat manager for Seaton Rural, revealed that the number of incidents had increased on the 28 reported in 2012 and 27 in 2011 but was still below the levels in 2004/5 when around 50 crimes were committed in the village.

“The types of crime have changed over the years with burglaries reduced,” said Speariett.

“Now we have more offences like drink-driving, of which we have had four this year, and communication offences using things like Facebook and texts.

“There has also been an increase in domestic incidents and assaults which we take very seriously now. But we have not had any burglaries for many years.”

Of the 41 crimes reported this year Speariett reported that half had been detected or the police were aware of who was responsible.

Speariett also said that enhanced measures to combat the holding of illegal raves at Beer's old quarry, which is leased to Hanson Aggregates by owners Devon Clinton Estates, had proved very effective and he didn't anticipate any problems over the Christmas period.

“Hanson has been very supportive of what we have been trying to do and have installed monitoring cameras and put in new gates,” said Speariett.

“We will also send letters to all the neighbours asking them to keep an eye out and hopefully we can prevent it happening again.”

The last illegal rave was on Boxing Day in 2011 and there were no incidents in 2012 or last year.

Beer stone is back in demand

EXETER Cathedral wants to resume supplies of Beer stone for an extensive restoration programme.

Commercial quarrying of the world-famous stone, that has been used in Westminster Abbey, the Tower of London and Hampton Court, ended in the 1920s and the last extraction from the site was almost 30 years ago.

But the authorities at Exeter Cathedral need more stone for their on-going repair programme to the magnificent building which is among the finest of its type in the country.

“There is planning application to extract five cubic metres of Beer stone per year for restoration purposes,” said John Scott, who is director and manager of the Beer Quarry Caves.

“We first had to get permission from Clinton & Devon Estates and they have been wonderful; now planning permission needs to be granted by East Devon District and Devon County Councils.

“We also need permission from Natural England because of our colony of bats so it is not simple or straightforward.

“But it would be nice to see the stone being used again.”

Mr Scott, who lives in Beer, was instrumental in helping to save the caves when they were under threat of being closed down permanently and has since worked hard to develop them as a popular tourist attraction.

Stone was first extracted from the caves in the 11th century and there is still plenty of raw material to satisfy the needs of Exeter Cathedral.

“The cathedral has an on-going restoration programme and they need new stone for at least the next five or six years to replace parts of the building,” added Mr Scott.

“There are so many historic buildings in this country that use imported stone as like for like replacements and that is sad as there is so much Beer stone left.

“It is a vast resource.”

Councillor John Meakin, a former chairman, pointed out that they were councillors 24 hours a day, seven days a week, and members of the public could approach councillors to raise matters whenever they wanted to.

Councillor Burrows confirmed that he allowed members of the public to speak on any matter relating to council business and pointed out that question time never went over the allotted 25 minutes.

“This was democracy in action,” he added.

Councillor Sedgwick said she also believed in free speech and she stressed that she was following Standing Orders and that members of the public could always call into the council offices to ask questions. Referring to the situation at Sidmouth, Councillor Sedgwick said members of the public had to give 24 hours notice of their questions in writing before the meetings and that councillors had no obligation to give answers.

She also pointed out that many other councils in the area adopted similar Standing Orders as Seaton Town Council, including Honiton, Chard and Lyme Regis.

Councillor Sedgwick said she could not allow Councillor Woodman's proposal to be put to the meeting as the matter had been agreed at the October meeting and to change that decision they would have to wait six months or the request be signed by six councillors.

Councillor Woodman replied that if that was the case why did the clerk (Penny Clapham) allow the proposition to be included on the agenda. And he added: “There are three people here tonight who want to ask questions but have been told they cannot speak because it is not on the agenda. I think that is wrong.”

Councillor Burrows agreed, stating: “If we cannot deal with this for another six months why was Councillor Woodman told it could go on the agenda? He should have been told this or that six councillors' signatures should have been provided with it. If you are going to do by the rules, you do it by the rules.”

The clerk replied that Councillor Woodman had submitted a written proposal that the matter be placed on the agenda. Councillor Sedgwick refused to allow the proposal to go forward and no second was sought.

After the meeting Councillor Woodman said that had he known he believed he would have been able to secure signatures of six councillors supporting his proposal.

Beer briefs

SIDMOUTH Town Band return by popular demand to lead an evening of Christmas Carols at Beer Social Club on Sunday (December 22nd).

The singing gets underway at 8pm and carol sheets will be supplied; mulled wine will be on sale at the bar.

Running club for beginners to launch

A GROUP for couch potatoes wishing to get fit through running is to start in Seaton next month.

One of the group founders, Lesley Adams, said the first session will be on Thursday, January 9th from 10am, adding: “The group is aimed at present couch potatoes or infrequent exercisers of all ages who would like to give running a go.

“The free weekly sessions will build up steadily and slowly so if you are keen but hesitate to run for a bus and are otherwise healthy come along, get fit and make new friends too.”

“The group will meet every Thursday at 10am for about an hour, come rain or shine, by Seaton Tramway.

“Runners should make sure they have suitable footwear. Apart from that there is no special clothing required.”

There is no need to register beforehand, but more details are available from Jane Bennett on 07722 422880 and Lesley Adams on 07545 445530.

Inquiry into district council's Local Plan will last a month

THE timetable for a major inquiry that will decide the shape of planning in East Devon for the next decade and beyond has been announced.

Government inspector Anthony Thickett will start his 19-day public examination of the Draft Local Plan, submitted by East Devon District Council (EDDC), on February 11th.

Full details of the programme, showing the dates and subject matter of each session, are available on EDDC's website www.eastdevon.gov.uk/progofficer

Proceedings will last for just under one month and, in that time, the inspector will hear evidence from EDDC, from community organisations and protest groups and from land-owners and developers in the district.

The inquiry will cover all aspects of the Draft Local Plan, looking at how EDDC proposes to tackle issues such as housing and affordable housing, employment, tourism and retail, climate change, gypsies and travellers and the natural environment. There will also be sessions focusing on each of the seven towns in East Devon.

The inspector's role is to consider whether EDDC's Local Plan meets the requirements of the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 and associated Regulations and whether it is sound in accordance with the guidance in the National Planning Policy Framework (NPPF). To be sound, the plan must be positively prepared, justified, effective and consistent with national policy.

Councillor Helen Parr, chairman of EDDC's Development Management Committee, said: "After many years of painstaking research and consultation, we welcome the arrival at last of the public examination of our plan. This is the last round of a process that is being repeated all over the country as councils formulate and amend their plans before finally putting them to the test.

"We have done our best to capture the essence and the detail of how people believe East Devon should develop over the coming years whilst aiming for compliance with the latest nuances of Government policy. But the acid test comes when the plan is held up to scrutiny by a government inspector – and that is what will be happening in February.

"This inquiry is clearly of great importance for the future of East Devon. It will help to determine how many homes may be built for our young people, whether they have jobs, how we deal with climate change, how we handle pressure for development and how we protect the environment. At stake is the future prosperity, well-being and living standards of everyone living and growing up in East Devon, as well as those from elsewhere who want to come here and share this special place with us."

It has since been reported that she, immediately after being presented with a cheque, wrote her own cheque for £50 to FORCE.

David Cantle of FRCE said: "We are extremely appreciative."

Thermal camera used in grill fire

A GRILL pan fire in a West Street flat in Axminster caused concern when smoke poured into a corridor.

Firefighters were called just after 7.10pm on Wednesday, November 20th and a spokesperson for the fire and rescue service said that three appliances – from Axminster, Colyton and Charmouth – were sent to the scene.

The spokesperson added: "The Axminster appliance arrived and found light smoke logging on the second floor of the flats and began investigating using a thermal imaging camera.

"The crew on scene decided no further appliances were required at the incident as they had found the smoke was caused from a small fire in a grill pan, which was out on arrival.

"Crews thoroughly inspected the flat and the surrounding area before leaving the scene."

Police offer property marking scheme

A PADLOCK was forced and a side gate damaged at a private property in the Cook's Lane area of Axminster at some point between 5pm on Tuesday, December 3rd and 9am the following day.

But further security measures prevented those responsible from gaining entry to the property.

PCSO Andy Trott says the incident highlights the importance of securing sheds oil tanks and buildings in general.

He added: "Devon and Cornwall Police offers a property marking scheme.

"To find out more, just call Devon and Cornwall Police on 101 and ask to speak to your Local Neighbourhood Team."

ASPIRE concept 'unique' in developing pupils' skills

By Anders Larsson

anders@tindlenews.co.uk

BUSINESS people, college staff, students and students' parents attended the formal Axe Valley Community College ASPIRE Coaching Relaunch.

The aims of the ASPIRE programmes are to help students succeed at college and beyond.

Axe Valley Community offers a selection of ASPIRE programmes; Coaching; General and Arts for gifted and talented children.

ASPIRE co-ordinator Rebecca Levi explained the selection criteria to Pulman's View by saying: "All the ASPIRE programmes include Year 5 and 6 students in the local primary schools and Years 7-13 here.

"The primary schools nominate their top students in September, according to their predicted grades for end of Year 6 in English, science and maths.

"The Years 7-13 are the top 10 per cent of the year group academically.

"For the ASPIRE Arts programme, the students are chosen on artistic abilities in the three subjects.

"The students will be assessed in lessons if they are Years 7-13 and for Years 5 and 6 we run an arts day where we can assess the art, drama and music skills of the students."

Explaining how the ASPIRE concept came about, she said: "It is wholly created by Axe Valley Community College, although there are some examples of gifted and talented programmes around the country.

"We are very unique in that we involve primary school students and we are very unique in the breadth of what we offer - trips, projects, coaching, skills workshops, masterclasses with external professionals.

"Schools will often provide masterclasses, clubs and workshops for gifted and talented students, but not many will involve the community like we do and the ASPIRE Coaching programme is even more unique.

Excited

"We are very excited about attending the annual Occupational Psychology Conference in Brighton in January to present the ASPIRE Coaching programme to an audience interested in how we can prepare the youth of today better for employment.

"Our programme is being seen as a great example of developing the skills of the next generations, providing an opportunity for the community to get involved in developing the next generations and sharing their skills and expertise."

Current partners in the business community include The Met Office and Axminster Tool Centre. Mrs Levi described the partnerships as "a unique collaboration between students and adults outside the college to help develop life-long skills".

In his invitation to the relaunch, headteacher Martin Smith wrote: "We are proud of the ASPIRE programme and the possibilities it can provide for the future of the students here at the Axe Valley Community College

Decorations stolen from Christmas tree

THIEVES and vandals have continued to target town council features in Axminster.

Mayor Jeremy Walden told fellow councillors: "I despair at times."

Since two Christmas trees intended for use at the Guildhall were felled and chopped up at the allotment site in Woodbury Park, it has been revealed that decorations have been stolen from the Christmas tree next to South Street car park, and that plants have been taken from Minster Green.

Axminster Town Council met on Monday December 9th and councillor Paul Hayward reported that attempts to "glitz up the Christmas tree" had been hampered by the theft of decorations less than 24 hours after they had been put in place.

Councillor Sue Spiller said: "There is a lot of criticism about a lack of effort (from the council), but someone out there is ready to spoil it."

It was also reported that bulbs planted on Minster Green in November had been dug up and removed.

About the Christmas trees that were cut up, Councillor Walden said that he could understand, to an extent, why someone would want to steal them. But he was at a total loss to understand why someone would simply destroy them. Summing up the overall situation he said: "I despair at times."

No name was mentioned, but Councillor John Jeffery praised a local company for the part it played in providing replacement trees.

Let's bake cakes

MEMBERS of Axminster Primary School's Let's Get Cooking Club hope for a profitable run-up to Christmas. They have baked a selection of Christmas cakes, which will go on sale to raise money for the club. Members showed off their cakes as they applied the final touches to their sales strategy.

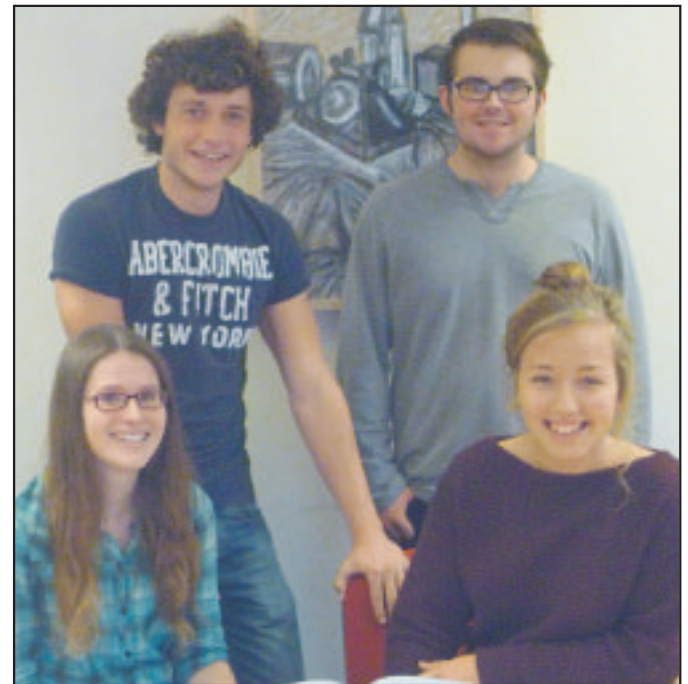

Community college students on the pathway to success

FOUR Axe Valley Community College students have successfully applied for what is known as university Pathway Programmes at Bristol and Exeter.

As a result, Vicky Tredrea, Annabel Jackson, Alex Haworth and Jonny House can look forward to regular visits to their chosen university and take part in a wide variety of lectures, workshops and benefit from mentoring and support. Assistant headteacher Darren Holland explained: "When our new students started the Sixth Form this September, we encouraged them to apply for a variety of programmes being offered."

"We strongly urge our students to aspire to be the very best and taking advantage of such activities is one strategy. "This is an excellent achievement and we are proud of their success. We look forward to their feedback to other students over the next few months and years."

Vicky said: "I am delighted to have been selected to be a part of the Pathways to Law Programme as it is a brilliant opportunity to gain an insight into the future profession I am to have in law."

Annabel commented: "It is an honour to be selected, the opportunity is amazing and I can't wait for the programme to start."

Alex was equally happy and said: "I am really glad that I got onto the programme as it increases my aspirations for going to university."

Jonny concluded: "The Exeter University Star Programme will be an excellent stepping stone."

Man arrested over gas fire

THE man arrested in connection with a gas main fire in Seaton has been released on bail pending further inquiries.

Firefighters were called to Cross Street on Sunday, December 8th and five flats had to be evacuated.

A 47-year-old former Seaton resident, currently residing in Falmouth, was arrested on suspicion of criminal damage. He has been bailed until February 2nd.

Fire service looks for new recruits

DEVON & Somerset Fire & Rescue Service is looking to recruit retained firefighters in Seaton.

A service spokesperson said: "This is an opportunity for men and women who live and/or work within five minutes response time to the fire station to potentially save lives in fire, flood and road traffic emergencies.

"Being on-call means that you provide a level of cover whilst at work or at home and when you are required your pager will alert you to attend the station."

Those interested are asked to come along to Seaton Fire Station on Mondays between 7pm and 9pm to find out what it means to be an on-call firefighter.

Puffins breakfast

PUFFINS pre-school in Beer is holding a fundraising 'Breakfast Bonanza' on Saturday, January 11th.

Meals will be served from 9:30am - 12noon at Bay View Tea Rooms in Beer at £5.50 per person.

Snippers raise £250 for Breast Cancer Research

TWO Seaton hairdressers swapped their scissors for Santa outfits when they took on the Santa Run in London to raise money for Breast Cancer Research.

Tracey Day, from Knight & Maiden salon, and mobile hairdresser Julie Rowe, tackled the ten-kilometre run in Christmas fancy dress, raising £250 towards the charity.

The event, organised by fundraising website do-it-forcharity.com, took place at Victoria Park in central London on Sunday, December 8th.

Most of the 2,000 competitors were dressed in Father Christmas costumes, but the Seaton ladies wore pink outfits, specially made for the event to mark their support for Breast Cancer Research.

The pair had been training for the event throughout November and gathered sponsors from around the town who donated to a collection pot in the salon.

Ms Rowe said: "I do a lot of running myself and have run three marathons in my time, but this was one of the longest runs Tracey has done.

"We have been raising the money as we go and most of it has come from clients' donations in the salon. We spent the last month training for the race, running along the beach and in the woods.

"Sponsorship for the event will stay open until February so we are continuing to try and raise money for the charity.

"We've already gone past £250 and we're looking to raise as much as possible. The more the merrier."

End of term awards for Zumba class

FIVE girls were recognised for their achievement in Zumba classes as the autumn term at Seaton Primary School came to an end.

Emma Kerr, Izzie Laughton, Caroline Turley, Grace McLennan and Megan Woolland were all presented with 'Star of the Summer Term' certificates.

Held by instructor Johanna Morgan, the classes allow children to have fun while improving confidence and fitness levels.

The autumn term concluded with each of the two groups performing in front of friends and family.

Johanna said: "I am absolutely delighted that the children's classes continue to be a success at Seaton Primary School. I was so very proud of both the Little and Junior Starz* end of autumn term performances, both of which were well received by two very enthusiastic audiences.

"In addition to the weekly classes, the taster performances given at the end of each term are a great way to help increase both the children's self-esteem and confidence.

"I am thoroughly looking forward to continuing the termly classes in January and wish all of the children a wonderful Christmas holiday - enjoy the very well deserved break."

Children don't have to attend Seaton Primary School to join the classes.

The meal was once again cooked by Monica's Kitchens and her band of assistants and served out to the guests by the Lions and their helpers.

The afternoon was rounded off with a round of seasonal carols before the Lions took many of their guests home.

The many guests are pictured above with Lions, Waitrose staff and Young Leaders in Service helpers in Colyford Memorial Hall.

Women's Institutes ROUND UP

HONITON AFTERNOON

THE Honiton Afternoon WI started their seasonal celebrations with a Christmas lunch at the Otter Inn.

Members agreed that the food and service was extremely good and it was a very pleasant occasion.

Next it was the annual Devon Federation Carol Service in Exeter Cathedral. A number of members attended and, as in previous years, it was a very enjoyable event.

To complete the festivities a Christmas party was held in the Methodist Chapel where members provided some excellent refreshments. Members took part in a handmade Christmas party hat competition, games were played and the afternoon finished with a quiz.

The first meeting in 2014 is on January 13th at 2pm in the Methodist Chapel, when Alan Rowe MBE, the Founder of the Baton Charity, will be speaking on "The Baton". Visitors are always very welcome to attend.

MUSBURY & WHITFORD

THE December meeting took place at Whitford Village Hall on Tuesday, December 11th.

The meeting opened on a sad note, with the death of member Vera Chambers being announced, and also of member's husband, Terie Monks. It was suggested that members all sit quietly for a short while to contemplate.

Apologies were taken and birthday posies given out, of which there were lots, including posy queen Joan Lovell. Sylvia Clegg had written a letter thanking for the card and photo for her 90th birthday. Dhe was a founder member of the Institute.

There was a small amount of business which was soon despatched, then the ladies enjoyed their Christmas "blinging" party. All had obeyed instructions, both members and visitors, to wear much glitter and bling. Santa and his much-put-upon elf, were equally blinging and handed out gifts as members enjoyed party food and quizzes.

The vote of thanks was given by Margaret Nicholson, who said that once again, Musbury & Whitford had pulled it off.

The next meeting is January 14th at Whitford Village Hall, 7.30pm, where the speaker will be the Devon Free-wheelers. All are welcome.

Life in the Axe Valley then and now

TWO complementary talks about local life then and now completed the 2013 programme of the Devonshire Association's Axe Valley branch meetings at Colyton's Peace Memorial Pavilion.

A meticulously researched lecture on the history of the Rousdon estate, situated on the cliff top half way between Lyme Regis and Axmouth, was followed by an eye-opening account of farming today, as given by the progressive Robert Corbett of Castlewood Farm at Musbury.

Uplyme man Derek Blooman taught at Allhallows School, which occupied the Rousdon estate from 1938 to 1998, for nearly 40 years until its unexpected closure. For the first time in the branch's history he attracted such a full house, including old boys of the school, that late arriving visitors had to be turned away. He concentrated mainly on the history and assets of the large estate, built up for biscuit magnate, Sir Henry William Peek, from the middle of the 19th century.

His rich collection of slides showed the carefully sculpted designs to be found around the impressive Tudor styled mansion. Now the place is quiet and largely empty with more past than present.

In contrast, Robert Corbett at Musbury's 160-acre Castlewood Farm has more or less jettisoned the traditions that ruled Axe Valley agriculture for centuries in favour of what looks to be viable in the present and future. He called his talk "Cows, Robots and Vines".

His closed herd of 90 holstein freisians provide an increasing milk yield transported to Chard Junction for eventual sale by Sainsbury's. The milking is managed not by hand, but with the use of a £83,000 Merlin robot in a cowshed which provides every possible facility, in the way of food and comfort. Arrangements helping to encourage cows to give of their best for their working life, of around seven years, before being taken off to make burgers.

Such technical advance has enabled Mr Corbett to largely abandon milking and devote himself growing and cherishing vines on the south facing slopes of Musbury Castle. After initial planting in 2006 his sparkling white Castlewood Brut, made by the champagne method in co-operation with Lyme Bay Winery, is becoming a real commercial proposition. Thanks to the unusually sun kissed 2013 June to August, seen at its best in a video film shot during his wine festival, he is now producing around 25,000 bottles a year.

His much appreciated talk was followed by wine and mince pies. The 2014 programme begins on January 8th with a talk on "Images of Dartmoor" by guide Tony Burges. Guests are welcome.

New chairman for Seaton art group

SEATON and District Arts Society had a lively meeting on the final Monday meeting of the year, with most people arriving toting art works to show other members.

Members held their annual general meeting and then enjoyed mince pies and tea before the Christmas break.

Maureen Turner was selected as chairman for next year and the new secretary will be Mike Ilsley. Workshops are planned and the list of demonstrations which will be given every month gave members much to look forward to.

Anyone with an interest in art, practising artist or not, who is interested in joining the group should contact the new secretary, Mike Ilsley, on 01297 553735.

The retiring members of the committee are owed the warm thanks of all members.

Roman Catholic Church - Christmas Eve carols, 9pm with blessing of the crib followed by the first mass of Christmas at 9.30pm, Christmas Day mass at 9.30am Mass.

A warm welcome is extended to all from all the churches to join us, as we send greetings for this blessed season.

As local Church of England readers know, Devon is at present awaiting the appointment of two Bishops, at Exeter and at Plymouth. So Devon joins the queue for filling such vacancies which at present number six. Those responsible for making these appointments try to match proposals to the distinct needs of each post.

A still unresolved matter for the Church of England is the decision on Women Bishops, which remains a matter to be considered further in the year ahead. Words expressed by those of varying views indicate that there is a new atmosphere of trust and reconciliation, which may result in further progress.

At the same time the Church in Ireland has consecrated the first female bishop in Ireland and Britain, to serve the Dioceses of Meath and Kildare. In the wider field, the Church of the Province of Central Africa has declined to admit women to Holy Orders.

But new things do happen - at Poltimore, near Exeter, facilities have been made in the parish church to provide a small lending library, with the help of the County Library Service, opening twice weekly.

A Tree of Light in memory of loved ones will be held on Exeter Cathedral green from December 15th to 22nd. Axmouth Christmas Tree Festival has events each day, from December 14th to 21st, details from 01297 23691.

Axminster Choral Society will host a Choral Worship on Sunday, December 15th at St Mary's Church, Thorncombe, at 7pm. Tickets including seasonal refreshments cost £10. Dunkswell holds their Carol Service at St Nicholas Church on Friday, December 20th at 7.30pm - all welcome.

For those wishing to obtain a record of Synods and copies of General Synod Digest, phone 01603785911.

Looking ahead Colyton Mission Community has a Confirmation Service on Sunday, May 14th, details later.

TOM Moran grew up near Membury but has spent the last eight years living in Norwich, where he attended university.

He recently moved to Axminster with his wife Jemma and has had his debut novel, "Dinosaurs and Prime Numbers", published.

● HOW would you describe your vocation?

I am a writer, well, more specifically a novelist. Then again, I'm also a scriptwriter, comedian, web designer, animator and filmmaker. When people ask me what I do, I tend to just say "writer" - unless I'm in a playful mood, in which case I pretend I'm an astronaut.

● HOW did you get into novel writing?

When I was at primary school, my teacher used to let me write stories if I finished my sums before everyone else. I think it's fair to say that this laid the foundation for what I do now. It's also probably why I'm quite good at maths.

● TELL us about 'Dinosaurs and Prime Numbers' and how it developed from idea to end product...

I'm not sure where the story came from. It started with a character - a hair-brained, socially inept, overly-enthusiastic, talentless, self-obsessed toy theatre producer, named Walton Cumberfield. I'd been working on him for a while. The novel grew around him and became something much richer than I had originally suspected it would. Now there are at least two sequels in the pipeline, and a couple of short stories available for Kindle.

● WHAT advice would you give to a budding or rookie author?

Don't be silly. Go and be a doctor, or something. Honestly...

● WHAT kind of books do you prefer reading?

I actively avoid reading any comedy literature. That might seem odd but, to be honest, I don't want to be influenced too much by what other people have done or are currently doing. When I read for leisure, I tend to be drawn to more serious, slightly gritty works, like Michael Crichton, Stephen King or Dennis Lehane.

seconds

● WHAT was your dream job when you were at school?

As long as I can remember, I've always wanted to be a writer and performer - except when I was four, when I wanted to be a tuna sandwich.

● WHICH was your favourite subject at school?

I enjoyed nearly every subject at school, so it's hard to pick a favourite. I studied drama, English literature and physics at A-level, but it was drama that I continued to university. This was very silly, I realise now, as if I had continued with the physics, maybe I could have been an astronaut after all.

PULMAN'S LETTERS

Donation made to brain charity after local death

■ MAY I publicly thank those many friends who shared the sorrow of my family at the loss of my much loved young wife Amanda, known as Jane, on October 15th.

Donations opened at her funeral have now closed at £460 and a cheque for that amount has been sent to the Queens Square Brain Bank in London, to support their vital research into neurological disorders such as Picks Disease.

QSBB has opened a non-charitable "Amanda Fund", into which further donations can be paid, to further their research into this little-understood early onset brain disorder. I can provide details to anyone who may wish to support the Fund.

Speed limit would be ineffective

■ SEAN McCrum (Pulman's View letters, December 10th) is right.

A 20mph limit in Honiton would be ineffective. There is a 20mph limit in central Axminster and it is ignored by most people and not enforced. The limit is, in practice, 30mph during the day and probably 40 to 50mph in the evening.

I suggest that Honiton finds a more efficient way to make the centre safer.

Ofsted success for St Andrew's

ST Andrew's Primary Chardstock is "good" with "outstanding" features according to its latest Ofsted report.

Following their recent inspection staff and pupils are celebrating the successful report. The visit found that teaching was consistently "good" or "outstanding" and that strong leadership was ensuring rapid improvement in all areas of the school. Attainment within the school was also commented on with the inspector impressed by "attainment rising sharply since the last inspection".

The school was given the highest grading of "outstanding" for its leadership and management and "good" in all other areas. The report stated the extremely strong leadership of the executive headteacher, Andrea Rice, and very effective governing body were ensuring rapid progress in all areas of the school with a relentless drive to improve further. Parents also spoke of seeing a definite improvement since the executive headteacher and new teachers were appointed.

Inspectors wrote that the change of teaching staff had brought about a transformation in the quality of teaching. The lead inspector, Mr Lake, told the school: "Teachers work very hard to make lessons stimulating so that pupils want to learn. Throughout the school attainment has risen sharply... and reading has improved significantly".

Mrs Rice thanked the new staff at the school for their hard work at raising standards and parents for their continuing support whilst the changes were made.

She said: "I am particularly pleased that the inspector recognised the significant improvements which have occurred since becoming a part of the Acorn Federation.

"The staff, children and parents have all worked exceptionally hard at improving our school. We are very proud of what we have achieved so far and look forward to building upon this success."

The event will be held at 9pm with members of the Bridport ukelele group, The Bucky

In addition to the hamper there are other festive prizes to be won, with proceeds from tickets going to ShelterBox.

Musbury Moles win £3,000 grant

MUSBURY Moles Pre-School have been awarded £3,000 from the Lloyds Bank Community Fund.

The pre-school staff and children would like to thank all those who used tokens to vote for the Moles in local Lloyds branches, as well as those who voted online and via text message.

Although the pre-school was falling behind with the number of text messages votes, they received an impressive amount of token votes in East Devon branches.

The Community Fund received more than 2,300,000 votes throughout England, Wales and the Isle of Man and 5,795 votes were placed in East Devon alone.

Musbury Moles will be using the money to buy children-sized wheelbarrows, child-friendly forks, buckets, spades, high visibility vests, a shed and seed to use on its allotment plot in Musbury.

The fruit and vegetables that the children grow will be used in the pre-school's Friday cooking sessions and any surplus will be left outside the school for local residents to purchase for a small donation.

■ THANKS FOR THE VOTES: Staff and children at Musbury Moles Pre-School celebrate winning the £3,000 Lloyds bank Community Fund

The Moles will also be using the allotment for the children to learn about how things grow, what they start as, the time of year, colours, shapes and sizes.

The pre-school would also like to say well done to the other three worthy causes that they competed against for the Community Fund prize, and they were pleased to hear that the Freedom Cafe in Seaton also won £3,000.

Musbury Moles has limited spaces available for children aged 2-5 years. Free taster sessions are also available through the 2gether scheme, which allowed two-year-olds 15 hours free at the pre-school with criteria and the application form available online.

AXMINSTER HERITAGE CENTRE

Help us to shape its future

◆ We want to hear from residents of Axminster and district about how they feel the Axminster Heritage Centre in Thomas Whitty House in Silver Street, the very first carpet factory, should be developed.

◆ By answering the ten questions below you could win a £50 voucher to spend at Hugh Fearnley-Whittingstall's Canteen Restaurant in Trinity Square. All returned questionnaires will go into a free draw to win one of two £50 vouchers.

THE PROJECT SO FAR...

THE name of Axminster is associated throughout the world with carpets yet there is nowhere in the town that properly celebrates this. Axminster Heritage Ltd, a registered charity, was formed to rectify this shortcoming.

With the help of a grant from Devon County Council we acquired Thomas Whitty House in Silver Street in May 2012. This is where Thomas Whitty started his carpet manufacturing in 1755.

Funds were then raised to enable the first and second floors to be renovated to provide five letting offices for local small businesses and a community / function room and a small kitchen. The official opening was at the end of September.

The purpose of Phase 1 was to ensure that sufficient income is generated from the rent income from the offices and the hire charges from the community / function room to cover the costs of maintaining the building whilst the Trustees and committee members embark on a major fundraising effort to realise an ambitious community project.

The Town Museum will be relocated into these larger premises so as to better tell the history of Axminster and especially its world famous carpet industry.

The Centre, which is to have the historic carpets as its centrepiece, will be a modern interactive attraction appealing to all ages.

The Tourist Information Centre will also be relocated into the same building which is to include a café and small shop.

The old dye house at the rear will be restored to provide a venue for local crafts.

This development will be a major step in the regeneration of the centre of Axminster and we now want to give residents, local schools and businesses a chance to have their say on this exciting project which will be for the benefit of all those who live and work in and around Axminster.

Chairman

THINK DON'T DRINK & DRIVE

The festive season is now upon us and with it comes work nights out and an opportunity to catch up with friends and family. But for all too many, it's tempting to ruin the celebrations by driving home after a couple of drinks.

Partygoers are being urged to think of the devastating consequences of drinking and driving over the festive season. Devon and Cornwall Police have launched their Christmas campaign to stop drink driving over the party period.

As part of this year's operation, officers will be stepping up roadside checks in the evenings and early mornings throughout December. Drivers who have been involved in a collision or anyone who has broken driving laws or is suspected to be over the limit or under the influence of drugs will be breathalysed as usual by officers.

Inspector Richard Pryce, head of Roads Policing, said driving while under the influence of drink or drugs is never tolerated but during the festive period the force will be keep an even closer eye on offenders.

He said: "If you drink and drive you risk significant consequences. This is not only increasing your chance of causing serious injury through a collision, but life changing consequences to simply running a normal life. The penalties when caught have far-reaching implications on any drink driver's life financially, emotionally, psychologically and on their family and friends.

"The punishments are severe, not only from what a court may pass as a sentence, but the on-going consequential effects.

"If convicted of drink driving you will have a criminal record, lose your licence and potentially your livelihood, you could spend time in prison and receive a hefty fine.

"Convictions can also significantly increase insurance premiums and prevent travel to certain countries. More importantly they risk causing a death or serious injury on the roads.

"THE MESSAGE IS SIMPLE: DON'T DRINK AND DRIVE".

DRINK DRIVING

- Don't drink and drive, the only safe limit is none.
- You can still be over the limit the morning after.
- Drink and drug driving does cost lives.
- Get caught drink driving and you will be treated like any other criminal.
- A drink driving conviction will stay on your licence for 10 years.
- Program a phone number for a licensed taxi company into your mobile phone before you go out.
- If you are caught drink driving you will be required to attend court where you could face a fine, be banned from driving or imprisoned.

DRUG DRIVING

- To be unfit to drive through drugs is an offence in its own right.
- Taking illegal drugs will affect your ability to drive.
- A new offence of driving while under the influence of drugs is due to be introduced soon which will increase the effectiveness of enforcement activity.
- Penalties for the new offence will include up to six months imprisonment and or a fine of up to £5,000. There will also be a chance of having your licence taken away for 12 months.

Drink driving myths and facts

How much will your next round cost you?

FACT

THE LEGAL LIMIT

You must not drive if you are above the following limits:

- 35 microgrammes of alcohol in 100 millilitres of breath
 - 80 milligrammes of alcohol in 100 millilitres of blood
 - 107 milligrammes of alcohol in 100 millilitres of urine
- It is difficult to determine the amount of alcohol that can be drunk before a person reaches these levels as each person's alcohol tolerance varies. Therefore, the only way to guarantee that you will provide a negative test is not to drink and drive.

WHAT IS THE LEGAL LIMIT IN UNITS?

The legal drink drive limit cannot be accurately converted into a certain number of units, as alcohol intake depends on a number of factors, which include the individual's response to alcohol.

Calculating your alcohol intake in this way is extremely unreliable as measures and strength of alcohol may vary in pubs and at home. Without taking a breath test there is no way of knowing how much alcohol is in your system. The best way to ensure you are not over the limit is not to drink and drive

IF YOU ARE CONVICTED OF DRINKING AND DRIVING:

- You will have a criminal record
- You will be disqualified from driving for at least a year
- Your next vehicle insurance premium will significantly increase
- You will have difficulty hiring a car for the next 10 years
- You may have to retake your driving test and attend rehabilitation to regain your licence

MYTH

YOU ARE SAFE TO DRIVE THE MORNING AFTER

Many people drive as normal the morning after they have been drinking. However there may still be alcohol in their system and if they are breathalysed then they may be over the limit.

It takes longer than you think for alcohol to leave the body. For example:

Take a Saturday night's drinking:

At midnight you may have 200 milligrams per 100 millilitres of blood in your system. This is 2½ times the drink drive limit.

At 7.30 am there will still be 90 milligrams per 100 millilitres in your system - you are still over the drink-drive limit.

By lunchtime you will still have about 20 milligrams within your system, not above the limit but still enough to adversely affect your driving.

Don't start 2014 with a hangover that could last all year...

Drink-Driving could cost you your job, your family or your life!

Do the sensible thing and book a taxi - it won't end up costing you as much as you think!

DUPLICITY

Substance & Shadow Theatre perform their new show at two Exeter venues

Substance & Shadow present Duplicity

LONDON, 1977. Britain is celebrating the Queen's Silver Jubilee and England is dreaming. Set against the volatile backdrop of the Punk Rock explosion, Duplicity follows the journey of identical twins, Tommy and Finn, as their sense of self and reality disintegrates into a maelstrom of anarchy, chaos and disorder.

Exploring themes of identity, duality and deceit, Duplicity is a new and original play by Rosie and Midge Mullin (Skin Deep) using monologue, interwoven with action, projection and music to create a powerful and candid drama.

After sell-out performances at The Bike Shed Theatre at the From Devon With Love and Ignite Festivals (2013) with Skin Deep, Substance & Shadow Theatre are delighted once again to be part of such a great local festival.

Substance & Shadow Theatre are an exciting Exeter based theatre company who are passionate about producing powerful, thought provoking and challenging drama. We are self funded and therefore, budget restricted. Nevertheless, we aspire to create quality drama that is both inventive and original.

Substance & Shadow Theatre perform Duplicity at The Bike Shed Theatre, Exeter on Friday, January 17th and Saturday, January 18th, at 8.30pm nightly, as part of Devon With Love Festival. Tickets £10/£8 from 01392 434 169 or visit www.bikeshedtheatre.co.uk.

The show will also be performed in the Clifford Room of The Barnfield Theatre, Exeter, on Friday, February 14th and Saturday, February 15th, at 8pm nightly. Tickets cost £8 (£7 concessions), and are available by calling 01392 270 891 or visit www.barnfieldtheatre.org.uk

Hot Damn to showcase album demos in Plymouth support slot

HOT Damn's 90s infused melodic hardcore-punk medleys, coupled with a uniquely British backdrop of bleak angst, point towards big things for this quintet.

Developing on their raw and honest early recordings, the band recently produced a couple of demos (Pocket Knife / Hollow) a firm signal of their intentions for their debut record (to be recorded Feb '14). The internal and reflective lyrics are all too familiar, and don't hold back when packing a thoughtful punch.

With live dates with UK scene setters Basement and Don Broco under their belts already 2014 looks to hold promise for the band. They kick the year off early with a tour with American duo This Wild Life.

Hot Damn support This Wild Life at Plymouth's White Rabbit venue on Wednesday, January 8th. For tickets visit www.seetickets.com

Pulman's PropertyView™

Delightful character property in Beer

WEST View Cottage is a delightful character property, located in an elevated location with garden and lovely views over the village of Beer to the countryside in the distance.

Believed to have been built in 1918, the cottage has many period features expected for a property of this age including parquet flooring, stripped wooden doors, picture rails, coving and deep skirting boards. The present owner has maintained the property to a high standard and over the last few years, renewed the kitchen, downstairs shower room/wc and first floor bathroom/shower room. There is also gas fired central heating throughout.

The cottage which is within easy reach of the shops and the beach, has been successfully holiday let over the last 12 years through Jean Bartlett Holidays with the vendor having use for holidays also. However, the property would equally suit a permanent home.

This cottage is a beautiful example of a period village property and must be viewed internally to be fully appreciated. EPC rating F.

IS THERE ever anything on telly worth watching? Well, for 50 weeks of the year, perhaps not... but at Christmas time even the most curmudgeonly of viewers would find something to enjoy with their plate of turkey sandwiches. Not convinced? Let us point you in the right direction.

RATINGS BATTLE

With catch-up TV online and digiboxes aplenty, I'm not sure why schedulers bother to pit their biggest shows against each other, but that's what's happening on Christmas night.

ITV's flagship drama, Downton Abbey (Christmas Day, 9pm), goes up against Danny Dyer's first appearance in EastEnders (BBC One, 8:30pm) as new Queen Vic landlord Mick Carter.

Downton's third Christmas special sees the action shift to 1923 and American actor Paul Giamatti joining the cast. The debutante season has arrived and Rose is to be presented at Buckingham Palace.

Not one to miss such a grand occasion, Martha (Shirley MacLaine) arrives from New York with Cora's recently disgraced brother Harold (Giamatti). Both outspoken and larger-than-life, they make quite an impression among certain members of London's high society.

When the Crawleys are implicated in a scandal that threatens to engulf the monarchy, Robert shows that he is prepared to go to great lengths to protect the royal family as well as his own.

Doctor Who (BBC One, Christmas Day, 7:30pm) will go head-to-head with the Christmas Day visit to Coronation Street (ITV, 7:30pm). But how anyone could opt for a miserable Christmas in Weatherfield rather than an adventure in time and space is beyond me!

It doesn't seem five minutes ago we were watching David Tennant regenerate into Matt Smith but, yes, it's that time again. Christmas Day's 'The Time of the Doctor' will see the introduction of Peter Capaldi as the man with the sonic screwdriver.

Coming hot on the heels of last month's 50th anniversary special, it's been a great few weeks for Doctor Who fans. This, the 800th episode of the series, also features both dales and cybermen – should be a classic.

COMEDY

Having finally put Only Fools And Horses out to pasture and making the huge mistake of commissioning the critically panned The Royal Bodyguard, how would the Beeb work David Jason into the Christmas schedules? By reviving another comedy classic, of course!

Open All Hours came to an end in 1985 but if you thought the death of Ronnie Barker 20 years later would curtail any further episodes, think again. Still Open All Hours (BBC One, Boxing Day, 7:45pm) – billed as a Christmas special but undoubtedly a pilot for a new series next year – sees Granville (Jason) having inherited the corner shop from his uncle and features characters both old and new.

Whether such a sitcom set-up will work all these years later is yet to be seen, but I'll happily spend half-an-hour of my time to find out. A documentary on the show is being screened the following day (BBC One, Fri 27th Dec, 1:25pm).

Another comedy reboot is Birds Of A Feather (ITV, Thu 2nd Jan, 8:30pm), unseen since 1998. Don't blame the Beeb though, it's ITV who have seen fit to commission another series!

Lesley Joseph, Linda Robson and Pauline Quirke all return to their familiar roles, ensuring the core cast is the same, as are the writers – original creators Laurence Marks and Maurice Gran also wrote the revival.

The girls are still living in Essex, with Sharon back in her council flat and Tracey in Chigwell with younger son Travis (played by Pauline's real-life son Charlie Quirke).

Vicious (ITV, Fri 27th Dec, 9pm), the comedy about the bickering gay couple who have lived together for 50 years, returns for a special Christmas episode. Starring Sir Ian McKellen as over-the-hill actor Freddie and Sir Derek Jacobi as Stuart, the pair host a Christmas day celebration for their friends at their flat, with a little help from their young neighbour Ash.

With Ash cooking dinner and Stuart leading party games, the gang are all set for a merry Christmas. However, managing the kitchen is proving complex for Ash, and a game of truth or dare leads to unexpected revelations.

If any comedy has taken up the regular spot in the schedules once reserved for Only Fools – worryingly – it's definitely Mr Brown's Boys. This year the show returns with not one but two seasonal specials (BBC One, Christmas Day & Mon 30th Dec, both 9:30pm). In the first, Agnes (the irrepressible Brendan O'Carroll) installs a motorised remote controlled Christmas tree in the house, whilst in the New Year instalment she takes in a homeless parrot with an, err, interesting vocabulary. Marmite TV but hugely popular.

DRAMA

Making a welcome return to our screens on New Year's Day is Sherlock (BBC One, 9:00pm) some two years after his supposed demise. 'The Empty Hearse' is the first of another three episode run and see Holmes resurface just as London is threatened by a terrorist attack.

Although fans of the BBC's 1995 adaptation of Pride And Prejudice won't be able to see Colin Firth and Jennifer Ehle reprise their roles, Matthew Rhys and Anna Maxwell Martin will make for more than acceptable substitutes as Fitzwilliam and Elizabeth Darcy in the three-parter Death Comes To Pemberley (BBC One, Boxing Day-Sat 28th Dec, nightly) - P.D. James' murder mystery sequel to Jane Austen's original novel.

There's more mystery on offer in The Thirteenth Tale - adapted from the book by Diane Setterfield - on Mon 30th Dec (BBC Two, 9:30pm). Olivia Colman is Margaret, a writer forced to confront her own past after being summoned by dying author Vida Winter (Vanessa Redgrave) to pen her biography.

WELCOME RETURN | Sherlock returns in the first of a three episode run.

SPOOKY CHRISTMAS

What I look forward to the most when it comes to Christmas telly is the BBC's ghost story offering. This tradition, which has recently been revived, goes back to the 1970s; each year a different tale - usually adapted from one of M.R. James' short stories - would terrify audiences and act as the perfect antidote to seasonal over-indulgences.

M.R. James devotee, Mark Gatiss, who seems to have taken on the role of curator of this treasured slot in the schedules, has adapted James' spine-chilling tale The Tractate Middoth (BBC Two, Christmas Day, 9:30pm) for 2013. As well as writing the screenplay, the multi-talented Gatiss also directs. A documentary on author M.R. James follows at 10:05pm.

FILMS

Movie premieres aren't the headline events they used to be, but there's a whole host of family films previously unseen on Freeview this Christmas - if you missed out at the cinema / on DVD / download / blu ray / satellite TV!

Toy Story 3 (BBC One, Christmas Day, 3:20pm), Cars 2 (BBC One, Boxing Day, 4:05pm), Kung Fu Panda 2 (BBC One, New Year's Day, 5:05pm) and Megamind (BBC One, Fri 27th Dec, 4:10pm) should all keep the little 'uns happy whilst having enough to keep the grown-ups occupied too.

As you would expect, there's also a host of family classics on offer too, including The Wizard Of Oz (Channel 5, Boxing Day, 5:15pm), Mary Poppins (BBC One, Mon 30th Dec, 4:15pm), Chitty Chitty Bang Bang (Channel 5, Sat 28th Dec, 10:30am), The Lion, The Witch And The Wardrobe (BBC One, Christmas Eve, 1:30pm), 101 Dalmations (BBC One, Boxing Day, 9:55am), a number of Harry Potter films and Disney's Fantasia (Christmas Eve, BBC Two, 4:15pm) finally getting an airing some 73 years after it first hit cinema screens.

If it's romance you're after, look no further than the epic Gone With The Wind (Channel 5, Christmas Day, 10:15am) - a must if you've never seen it (but probably one to record, unless you've nothing else to do until Christmas Day afternoon).

If sci-fi's more your thing, you can catch the original Alien trilogy showing nightly on Channel 4 from New Year's Day. Whilst if you have access to Sky Movies, Star Trek Into Darkness makes its first appearance in the New Year.

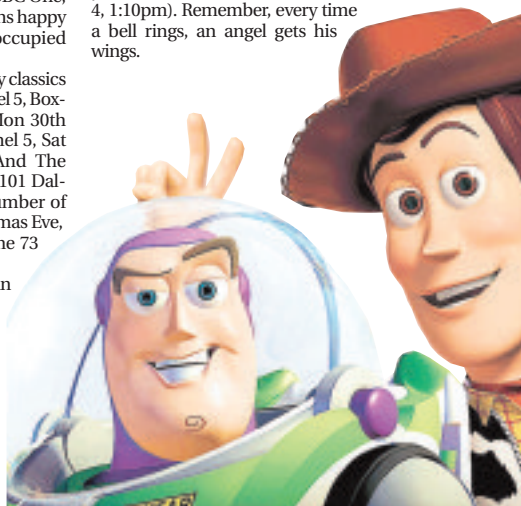

Musicals have always been a mainstay of the Christmas movies line-up and this year is no exception. Channel 5 are offering Meet Me In St Louis (Boxing Day, 2:55pm), Oklahoma! (Sat 28th Dec, 1:15pm) before a triple bill on New Year's Eve of Fiddler On The Roof (11:15am), Pal Joey (2:50pm) and Seven Brides For Seven Brothers (5:00pm); BBC One dusts off The Sound Of Music on New Year's Day (2:15pm).

And bringing things more up-to-date, you can also catch This Is It - the fascinating insight into Michael Jackson's rehearsals for the comeback shows that never were - on Channel 5 (Sat 28th Dec, 5:50pm).

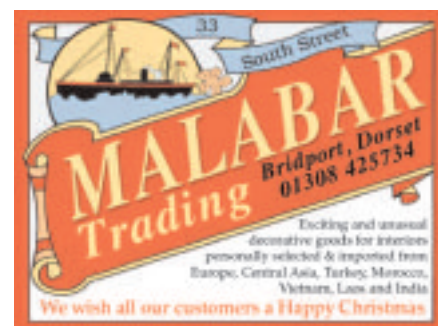

BBC Four is offering a short season of classic Ealing comedies, including Whisky Galore (Sun 22nd Dec, 7pm), The Titfield Thunderbolt (Christmas Eve, 7pm) and Kind Hearts And Coronets (New Year's Eve, 8pm).

Horror fans can sink their teeth into BBC Two. Highlights include the 1958 Hammer version of Dracula (Boxing Day night, 12:10am), The Mummy (Fri 27th Dec night, 1:15am), The Curse Of Frankenstein (Sat 28th Dec night, 12:40am) and The Abominable Snowman (Sun 29th Dec, 2:00am).

Finally Christmas wouldn't be Christmas without It's A Wonderful Life - the finest festive movie of them all - and you can catch it on Christmas Eve (Channel 4, 1:10pm). Remember, every time a bell rings, an angel gets his wings.

THE MOST FESTIVE MOVIE OF THEM ALL? | It's A Wonderful Life showing on Christmas Eve.

YULE LOG

Preparation time 50 mins

plus chilling

Serves 8

Ingredients

3 eggs • 85g golden caster sugar • 85g plain flour (less 2 tbsp)
2 tbsp cocoa powder • ½ tsp baking powder

For the filling

50g butter • 140g dark chocolate • broken into squares
1 tbsp golden syrup • 284ml pot double cream 200g icing sugar

Preparation method

1. Heat oven to 200C/fan 180C/gas 6. Grease and line a 23 x 32cm Swiss roll tin with baking parchment. Beat the eggs and sugar together with an electric whisk for about 8 mins until thick and creamy.
2. Mix the flour, cocoa and baking powder together, then sift onto the egg mixture. Fold in very carefully, then pour into the tin. Bake for 10 mins.
3. Lay a sheet of baking parchment on the work surface. When the cake is ready, tip it onto the parchment, peel off the lining paper, then roll the cake up from its longest edge with the paper inside. Leave to cool.
4. To make the icing, melt the butter and chocolate together in a bowl over a pan of hot water. Take from the heat and stir in the syrup and 5 tbsp cream. Beat in the icing sugar until smooth. Whisk the remaining cream until it holds its shape. Unravel the cake, spread the cream over the top, then carefully roll up again into a log.
5. Cut a thick diagonal slice from one end of the log. Lift the log on to a plate, then arrange the slice on the side with the diagonal cut against the cake to make a branch.
6. Spread the icing over the log and branch (don't cover the ends), then use a fork to mark the icing to give the effect of tree bark. Scatter with unsifted icing sugar to resemble snow, and decorate with holly.

2. Mix the flour and sugar in a bowl, then make a well in the centre. Whisk together the oil, milk and egg and slowly pour into the bowl, stirring gently. Divide this mixture between two bowls. In one bowl add the dark chocolate and mincemeat. Add the white chocolate and cranberries to the other bowl. Stir very gently.
3. Divide the two mixtures among the 24 muffin cases and bake for 20 minutes or until golden brown and risen.
4. Remove the muffins to a wire rack and eat warm.

20 fresh cherries, stones removed and halved
200ml/7fl oz brandy • cocoa powder, for dusting

2. The egg nog can be chilled at this stage or served hot.
3. To serve, scatter the cherries in the bottom of each serving glass. Divide the brandy between the glasses and pour the egg nog over. Dust with cocoa powder and serve.

CHRISTMAS PUDDING

Preparation time Overnight

Cooking time 2 hours

Ingredients

350g/12oz mixed dried fruit (raisins, currants, sultanas)
100g/3½oz pitted ready-to-eat prunes, chopped or left whole
100g/3½oz dark muscovado sugar • 4 tbsp dark rum
100ml/3½fl oz stout • 100g/3½oz chopped walnuts
100g/3½oz blanched almonds • 100g/3½oz ground almonds
100g/3½oz fresh white breadcrumbs • 50g/1¾oz plain flour
100g/3½oz frozen butter, grated, plus a little extra for greasing
½ tsp freshly grated nutmeg • 1 tsp ground cinnamon
2 tsp mixed spice • 100g/3½oz chopped glacé cherries (or left whole if you prefer) • 3 large free-range eggs, beaten

Preparation method

1. Combine the mixed fruit, prunes, muscovado sugar, rum and stout in a mixing bowl. Stir well to mix, cover and leave for 24 hours to soak.
2. After 24 hours, mix the walnuts, almonds, ground almonds, breadcrumbs, flour, butter, spices, cherries and eggs along with the soaked fruit mixture in a large mixing bowl, making sure you include all the soaking liquor from the soaked fruit. Mix well until completely combined (let all the members of the family have a stir and make a wish).
3. Cover with cling film and leave to stand in a cool place for 24 hours.
4. After 24 hours, grease a 1.2 litre/2 pint pudding basin with butter. Cut a circle of baking paper and place into the bottom of the pudding basin and then grease it with a little more butter. Pack the pudding mixture into the pudding basin, pressing as you add it. Fold a pleat into the middle of a large piece of baking paper and place over the pudding. Cover with a large piece of pleated foil, ensuring the pleats are on top of one another. Secure tightly with kitchen string tied under the lip of the pudding basin.
5. Place an upturned saucer into a large saucepan one-quarter full of water. Fold a long piece of foil into quarters lengthways to create a long strip and place the pudding basin in the middle of the strip. Bring the sides of the strip up the sides of the pudding basin and lower into the saucepan. Ensure the water in the saucepan comes one-third of the way up the side of the pudding basin, but nowhere near the top of the basin. Leave the ends of the foil strip hanging over the side to make it easy to remove the pudding later.
6. Bring the water to the boil and then reduce the heat to a gentle simmer. Simmer gently for 5-6 hours, topping up the water level as necessary throughout cooking (do not allow the pan to dry out).
7. Once the pudding is cooked, remove from the pan and set aside to cool. The pudding can be stored for up to two years in a cool, dry place. To serve, reheat the pudding by steaming again (in the same way) for two hours, or until hot all the way through. Alternatively, remove the foil and reheat in the microwave.

Rachel Rendell
Healer and Psychic Medium

I am a psychic medium and run several development and meditation groups. I was attuned to Reiki and qualified as a Crystal healer in 2003.

Connect with your loved ones in a private reading. My reading for you will bring precisely what is needed in your life right now. I link with my guides who bring through your friends or relatives in the spirit world. I give a clear reading helping you to become aware of the options and general direction you could take in your life.

When healing I work on all levels, physical & emotional alike, clearing blockages and re-aligning the Chakras. I work very much with my intuition as I believe that just like each and every one of us has our own unique energy, so crystals have their own.

The new BMW M3 Saloon and BMW M4 Coupe

THE launch of the new BMW M3 Saloon and new BMW M4 Coupé heralds the arrival of the fifth-generation of the iconic high-performance sports car from BMW M. For the first time the Coupé and Saloon models receive individual model names, in deference to the different model series that provide their basis.

Another first is the adoption of a turbocharged engine for this BMW M model: the high-revving, 3.0-litre six-cylinder in-line engine with M TwinPower Turbo technology has been specifically developed for this purpose, and produces a maximum output of 431hp. Its peak torque of 550Nm is available across a very wide rev range starting at just 1,850rpm, and exceeds the figure recorded by the outgoing BMW M3 by roughly 40 per cent. In spite of this, the new engine also achieves a reduction in fuel consumption and emissions of around 25 per cent.

To maximise dynamic ability and ensure excellent efficiency, a weight loss of over 80kgs has been achieved compared to a comparably equipped predecessor model. Specific weight-saving measures include the increased use of lightweight materials: both models now feature a carbon-fibre reinforced plastic roof.

BMW M engineers have paid particular attention to the car's aerodynamic performance, and incorporated the latest Active M Differential amongst numerous other technical highlights. During the development process the engineers worked closely with BMW Motorsport's professional racing drivers, with extensive testing and set-up work carried out on the Nürburgring Nordschleife circuit.

The balance of the overall concept: high power, low weight, driving pleasure.

The new BMW M3 Saloon and new BMW M4 Coupé are formed from a host of finely blended elements, all working in perfect harmony to deliver outstanding performance, precision and agility on road and track.

With the new BMW M3 Saloon and M4 Coupé, the engineers sought to optimally channel the air around the car in the quest for ultimate performance, while also ensuring the engine, powertrain and brakes receive the requisite cooling. Even when operating under heavy loads on the racing circuit. The aggressively styled front apron, smooth under-body and the clearly defined lip spoiler at the rear of the M3 Saloon (or integrated bootlid spoiler at the rear of the BMW M4 Coupé) reduce lift by an equal amount at the front and rear axle, to the benefit of handling.

Albert Biermann, Head of Development at BMW M GmbH, said: "The way in which we channel the inflowing air through the engine oil cooler creates a venturi effect, which reduces front axle lift and, in so doing, improves the steering."

The Aero Curtain and M side gills, the latter with integrated Air Breathers minimise turbulence in the front wheel arches. These elements, together with the aerodynamically optimised side mirrors in familiar M twin-stalk style, are not only distinctive design features, they also help to reduce drag.

Honda's 1.6 I-DTEC engine once again shows its Economy Credentials in real-world testing

THE super-frugal Honda 1.6 i-DTEC engine has once again proven its real-world efficiency, this time in the new Honda CR-V.

In a rigorous independent test on UK roads over more than 500 miles, the CR-V achieved an incredible 77.86mpg, almost a quarter more than its official quoted figure of 62.8mpg, sipping just 29.75 litres (6.544 gallons) of fuel.

The CR-V was tested by the team behind the recent 'MPG Marathon' under the same rules and conditions as that event.

As in the MPG Marathon the car was driven by two independent drivers, John Kerswill and Ian McKean. Carried out over two days, the test covered 509.5 miles on a variety of roads and conditions and at speeds which represent real-world driving.

John Kerswill commented: "A lot of people doubt that the official consumption figures of new cars are achievable in real life, and with some cars that might be true. But we've shown conclusively that it's possible to not only match but far exceed the CR-V 1.6 i-DTEC's official 62.8mpg, which is itself a pretty amazing figure for such a large vehicle."

Lee Wheeler, Manager-Corporate Operations at Honda (UK), comments: "Once again our Earth Dreams technology proves its real-world credentials over distances and in conditions that many fleet drivers face every day. This perfectly illustrates the fact that drivers can have the versatility, practicality and refinement of a larger car but still keep their fuel bills down."

The success of the CR-V comes on the back of another recent triumph for Honda's new super-frugal diesel engine, with the Civic 1.6 i-DTEC scooping third place out of 23 in this year's MPG Marathon. Over a 367 mile drive the Civic recorded an excellent overall mpg of 84.87mpg, just 4mpg behind the winner. It was pipped to the post for overall MPG by two much smaller cars.

Ross Durkin, Managing Editor of Fleet World Group and organiser of the MPG Marathon, added: "We've already seen one amazing economy driving performance from a Honda diesel this year. Add to that John and Ian's undoubted credentials from previous MPG Marathons and you have the potential for some really impressive results. Their performance shows that not only is this an intrinsically economical car to run, but also that with a degree of skill it can far outstrip the published fuel consumption figures. This run would have put them in second place in the MPG Marathon proper, just a whisker behind the winner."

The new Mercedes-Benz C-Class: C-Class at its best

THE ALL-NEW C-Class heralds a new chapter in the Mercedes-Benz success story and sets new standards in the premium mid-range class. Thanks to an intelligent lightweight design concept boasting weight savings of up to 100 kilograms, excellent aerodynamics and new, economical engines, the C-Class establishes new benchmarks in its class. A host of new assistance systems offer safety of the highest standard, while a new suspension, optionally air-sprung, provides for exemplary ride and driving comfort as well as nimble and agile handling.

In terms of appearance, the new C-Class adopts a progressive approach with its clear yet emotional design and its high-class interior. Many other innovations and interior touches underscore the Saloon's comfort and refined sportiness. In all, the perceived quality of the new C-Class feels like an "upgrade to a higher class of travel".

The C-Class is the biggest-selling model series from Mercedes-Benz. Sales of the preceding model, which was launched in 2007, total over 2.4 million (165,194 units in the UK). The new C-Class offers sensuous and clear design and a host of technical innovations as well as a comprehensive scope of standard equipment and exemplary emission and fuel consumption values.

"Mercedes at its best - that's the new C-Class."

which sets new standards for the mid-range segment on many fronts," says Prof. Dr Thomas Weber, Member of the Board of Management of Daimler AG responsible for Group Research and Mercedes-Benz Cars Development. "It is characterised by an emotional yet clear design which is continued in the high-quality and modern interior. Its efficient and high-performance engineering provides the basis for a high standard of driving enjoyment."

Ola Källenius, Executive Vice President, Sales and Marketing Mercedes-Benz Cars, adds: "The new C-Class embodies Mercedes-Benz's claim 'The best or nothing' in uncompromising style. This is immediately apparent when encountering our new Saloon for the first time, as it creates the impression that one is sitting in a higher class of automobile. I am sure that our customers will be delighted by the high-class appeal and agility of the new C-Class."

The C-Class has grown to take account of people's increasing average height. With an 80-mm increase in the wheelbase (2840 mm) compared with the previous model, the vehicle is 95 mm longer (4686 mm and 40 mm wider (1810 mm). The resultant additional space benefits first and foremost the rear passengers, who now travel in even greater comfort. The new C-Class also outstrips its predecessor in terms of boot capacity, at 480 litres (in accordance with ISO 3832).

Heavies crushed as Fishermen go nap Leaders Upottery hit eight - Fenny fend off Chard fight back

ROUND-UP
PREMIER leaders NEWTOWN kept their great run going with a 5-0 win at the UNIVERSITY and hardly allowed the students a shot at goal.

Manager John Moore was delighted with the performance with Dale O'Donaghue (2), Ben Howard (2) and Fergil O'Rourke getting the goals.

Newtown's victory keeps St MARTINS three points behind after their much tougher win at home to THORVERTON.

The Thors were always in the game but after equalising Dax Vincents opener, shipped further goals from Saints Lee Parker and a Darren Bingham penalty.

FENITON also had to work hard for their 3-2 win at CHARD TOWN after going three ahead with the slope and wind in their favour. Two-goal Paul Dowling and Mark Simic scored for Feniton who move up to third.

BEER ALBION celebrated their first home win and first clean sheet this season but in style as they sent HEAVITREE UNITED packing 5-0.

Manager Richard Walker, James Melville, Chris Long, John Cooper and Mike Wheeler allfound the net for the Fishermen.

SEATON TOWN were caught twice at CLYST VALLEY but eventually came out 4-2 on top. Josh French, Mark Perham, Jake Richards and Seth Wakeley scored for Seaton.

After last week's glory WILLAND ROVERS came down to earth when held 1-1 by HATHERLEIGH TOWN.

First Division leaders ELMORE hit the goal trail again as they despatched TIPTON ST JOHN 6-1, and so gained ground on rivals BOW AAC and SIDBURY UNITED who were sharing a 1-1 draw.

Michael Broome was the Bow scorer. WITHERIDGE won 2-1 at ALPHINGTON after getting two goals ahead through Matt Smith and Tom Williams. Jake Hopton hit back for the Alphas.

HEAVITREE beat EXMOUTH AMATEURS 4-1 with Dexter Booth scoring twice, Liam Cook and Dave Rowe also scoring.

In Division One EAST BUDLEIGH were 4-0 winners at neighbours NEWTON POPPLEFORD.

Jack Howarth (2), Josh Willer with a 30 yarder and an own goal completed the Budleigh tally.

HONITON TOWN stepped on the gas as Second division pacemakers when they won 4-0 against COLYTON, and hit the woodwork three times.

Tim Genders (2), Jack Knight and Lewis Couch scored.

Lance Clarke bagged a hat-trick for DAWLISH UNITED as they beat SOUTH ZEAL 4-2, Sam Ryder completed the scoring.

TOPSHAM and PINHOE shared a 1-1 draw Joe Webbers goal for the tops wiped off by Lewis Minto whose dad Norman has taken over as manager.

UPOTTERY remain four points clear as Division Four leaders with an emphatic 8-1 win at pointless EXMOUTH AMATEURS.

Sam Winslade scored twice the remainder coming from Mark Tucker, Steve Pepperell, Dan Scadden, Joe Jones, Jake Welch and a Steve Morris penalty.

The team of the moment are CHULMLEIGH and they continue to climb with a stunning 7-0 win against WOODBURY.

CHAGFORD won 3-0 at OTTERY ST MARY with Josh Stanbury, Davon Friend and Robbie Miller scoring.

In Division Four the LORDS XI were not aleaping after going down 3-1 to THORVERTON having taken the lead through Tim Holding. EXMOUTH TOWN slipped into second place with their 2-0 win at NEWTOWN.

LAPFORD moved two points clear as Division Five leaders with a 5-3 win against BEER ALBION, Harry Leach and Dom Stapleton both scoring twice.

MORCHARD BISHOP equalised in the last minute to share a 2-2 draw with BOW AAC. Ryan Carpenter chiselled out the Bishops second after Alex Stapleton and Jamie Jackman scored for Bow.

Luke Shere smashed five goals for AMORY PARK RANGERS in their 6-0 win at SAMPFORD PEVERELL, and Hamza Sbouie (4) and Richard Gilbert (3) were the scorers at COUNTLESS WEAR DYNAMOES in their 7-1 rout of SEATON. ST MARTINS won 2-1 at WESTEXE where referee Mike Turner said is a pleasure to officiate at a game where both teams displayed a great attitude.

HALWILL won an astonishing match in Division Six at NEWTON ST CYRES, Ashey Stewart scoring twice in the 6-5 outcome. Tom Jeenes, Sam Stockdale, Ben Fellowes and Mike Cullimore also scored.

Kevin Pitt and Ben Yeomans both scored twice as leaders OTTERTON ran out 5-1 winners against HONITON TOWN, and Joe Rosser notched twice for EAST BUDLEIGH 3-0 winners against OTTERY ST MARY.

Division Seven leaders HENRYS CRONIES were too good for NEWTOWN Kieran Smith scoring twice on his debut in the hosts 6-1 scoreline.

PERRY Street recovered from going behind to an early Sam Turner strike to ease their way through a quarter-final clash with Lym Regis.

Kieran Bailey netted the equaliser before Dan O'Connor edged the Mothers ahead before the interval.

Liam Riste recovered from missing a first-half penalty to make it 3-1 in the 49th minute with his 15th goal of the season.

O'Connor repeated his prowess from a dead ball situation with his second free-kick of the match to end any thoughts of a Millwey fightback.

Rise then had Matty Lewis red-carded by referee Kelvin Charles for spitting at an opponent.

Sean Druce completed the scoring with the pick of the goals - a rasping 40-yarder that nestled in the top corner.

FORTON RANGERS 4

FARWAY UTD 2

STRUGGLING Farway showed some battling qualities to come back from 3-0 down to 3-2 with goals from Dave Laramy and Ernie Stobbs.

But the hosts struck again to clinch the win.

HAWKCHURCH UTD 3

MILLWEY RISE RES 2

IT was a similar story over at Hawkchurch where the hosts breezed 3-0 ahead with goals from Jack Larcombe (2) and Gavin Herrod.

The second-half was a different story as Millwey, now boosted by the strong wind, scored twice late-on through Gary Sims and player-manager Simon Flint.

Hawks' manager Martin Bright selected centre-backs Ollie Pearce and Simon Herrod as his top-performers.

FARWAY UTD RES 1

FORTON RANGERS RES 8

AN Adam Lawson penalty was scant consolation as Farway United Reserves suffered yet another mauling.

Six players got on the scoresheet for in-form Forton.

HONITON with Tony Broughton

ANOTHER quiet week (Commencing Saturday, December 7th) for the Honiton Bowls Club with two friendly matches and one Men's competitive game.

On Saturday four mixed rinks of players came in from Feniton and were defeated by 86-48 the Honiton top rink was Bob Mackintosh, David Jones, Clive James and Ann Hillyear scoring 26-13.

Meanwhile, the men were playing their third match in the Inter-Club League series, this time against Budleigh Salterton two rinks home and two away and winning on all four rinks so maximum points.

This was a good result because at the same time the supposed better men were playing in the Top Club competition against the Exeter, Isca club and won three out of five of the disciplines involved.

James Spreadbury, Roger Binmore and Kevin Lovering won the triples 27-14. Liam Crawford won the four bowl single 21-18 and Tony Tooley and Trevor Pipe won the pairs 22-18.

The following day Budleigh could only field two rinks of which one won by one shot but the other lost against Honiton's Gina Morfe, David Lindley, David Downs and Cyril Dann by 38-20.

I attended the Annual General Meeting of Bowls Devon, the Outdoor play arm of Bowls this weekend and found it very interesting.

There is no doubt that Devon is one of the top counties for Bowls in England, certainly the one most others fear.

The Men were very unlucky to lose this season's Middleton Cup final to Berkshire by just 10 shots.

The Ladies were much more successful winning the Johns Trophy for the first time since 1980 and Honiton bowler Sue Evans skipped one of the rinks.

Final score Donyatt 76 Chardstock 49.

SAT DECEMBER 14TH: 16 members travelled to HONITON Indoor bc to play our last indoor game of the year - a mixed friendly. Scores: B Vickers, Cynthia Bradford, B Howard & T Dredge 20 D Evans 20. Phyllis Baldwin, Monica Sturley, D Eldridge & Sheila Jeffery 16 A Hillyear 15. Ann Dredge, M Rogers. Ann Sebright & J Tucker 13 P Gadd 15. Veena Cole, E De Muelin, W Kerr & G Bodily 16 K Morey 30.

Final score: Honiton 80 Chardstock 65.

AXMINSTER BC with David Harris

WE have enjoyed a good run in our mixed friendlies, winning two and tying one of the three played.

We started with a 52-52 tie in a triples match at home to Donyatt with winning rinks of Morrison Brown, Chris Todd, and Jean Kesterton (18-11) and Joan Quick, John Hill, and Ann Clayton (21-19).

Next up we beat Dunkeswell 76-38 at home with wins on all rinks - Brenda Raistrick, Norman Copland, David Harris, and Brian Clark (27-10), Morrison Brown, Lilian Lovatt, Derek Phebe, and Margaret Crompton (28-12), and Margaret Brown, John Hill, Pam Hunter, and Les Clark (21-16).

We then had an excellent 60-57 win at Yeovil in a very tight game with a win for Daphne Ryan, Brenda Raistrick, David Harris and Bob Sherborne (33-12).

The men's Over 60s team went down 67-112 at the hands of the strong Torquay side in the Devon League with only the home rink of Roger Legg, Frank Bridge, Doug Looskan, and Paul Moffitt managing a win (25-17).

Last Friday an Axminster triples team of John Packham, George Mabon, and Bob Sherborne played for the Devon Vice-Presidents team against I.S.C.A and, despite the strong opposition, managed a creditable 21-16 win.

We played our Annual pre-Christmas round-robin competition on Sunday with the overall winner being Diana Courtenay-Smith while Eric Skeemer was the top Gent.

There was an excellent buffet organised by Ladies' Captain Jean Kesterton to round things off.

Trophy success

MEMBERS of Woolbridge Motor Club gathered at the Frampton village hall to honour their members who have excelled during the 2014 season in the various motor sporting disciplines that the club present across the south of Dorset and East Devon.

For the second year, Dorset's premier motor club, now with a membership of in excess of 500, promoted the awards presentation at an informal lunchtime gathering rather than at the more formal black-tie Annual Dinner and Dance which had previously been the norm.

Axminster resident Keith Grant claimed the Champion Driver award in the Navigational Challenge series in addition to the Motor Sports Association Silver Jubilee Salver, which he received in acknowledgement of his involvement in the club, not only as a competitor, but also for his efforts throughout club in non-competing activities.

The Volvo driver completed a triple also securing the Newlands Trophy.

AVR's celebrate another successful season

THERE was merriment and mayhem at the AVR annual dinner and awards presentation held at the Dolphin Hotel, Beer last Friday writes Dave Mutter.

After a sumptuous meal chairman Garry Perratt and assistants gave out the awards.

The committee had difficulty in choosing just one person for a few categories, so awards were duplicated to accommodate this.

The male runner of the year was Matt Clist while Amy Greenhalgh and Margaret Pearce shared the female runner category.

One of the most prestigious awards is the "Club Person" which was won by Richard Hale for organising many AVR runs.

The chairman's Shield went to Dave Thomas for volunteering to organise next years Grizzly while the President's Shield went to Graham Newton for his incredible marathon performances.

The Most improved male(s) were Alan Morbey and John Claydon and Most improved female(s) were Diane Newton and Jess Tubbs.

The Founder's Trophy went to Janet Woodward and Jess Tubbs while Alex Todd was deemed the most Unfortunate Soul.

The Team award went to the Three Peaks Challenge gang of 11 organised by that maestro Richard Hale. Rupert Pady won the New Member award.

The 2013 Handicap winner was Alan Morbey with 150 points, just three points ahead of 2nd placed James Guler, with Tim Sibley 3rd with 136 points.

Many thanks to Debbie and Mike Barry for organising the event superbly.

Liam Roberts raced the Telford 10k and was lucky to have good conditions for this time of year.

With only some mud washed onto the paths by recent rain and a bit of a breeze to deal with, he covered the flat, two lap course in 31:46, a personal best by almost 4 minutes - his previous best being 35:29, to finish 28th in a national standard field.

Liam was very pleased with this result and reports that training is going well and he is hopeful of running quicker in the New Year.

Eleven AVR's braved Sunday morning's weather for a small club duathlon from Seaton scout hall. They ran 2 miles, cycled 10 then ran 2 again.

The winner was a surprise to many (except perhaps himself), young James Sibley clocking a very impressive 1:04:33.

James Trewick was second in 1:05:11,

Depleted Tigers ship five

A DEPLETED Axminster Town line-up, missing five regulars, was well beaten 5-0 in the South-West Peninsula league clash at Totnes & Dartington on Saturday.

Tigers manager Gary Mcauley told View sports: "It was a day to forget. It was a bit of scratch side we had out and I had to play people out of position, so it was always going to be a uphill task. But we move on - there are still plenty of points to play for."

Next up for the Tigers is Saturday's trip to face eighth placed Crediton United.

Meanwhile, Axminster Town Reserves went down 4-1 in their Devon & Exeter League Division three match against Newtown at Forton.

The Tigers second-string entertain promotion-chasing Hemyock on Saturday.

After five successive home games Seaton Town returned from lowly Clyst Valley with their first away win of the season.

Seaton led all the way with Josh French, Mark Perham, Jake Richards and Seth Wakeley all getting on the score sheet.

It was a far from vintage performance as Seaton manager Keith Somers said: "It wasn't pretty, but these are the games we have to win."

The Seasiders, now up to fourth in the Devon & Exeter League Premier division table, welcome Tiverton Town Reserves on Saturday.

At the other end of the table Beer Albion edged away from the drop zone with a 5-0 hammering of bottom-of-the-table Heavitree United.

The Fishermen could face a smaller haul next week with the visit of title-chasing St Martins.

Meanwhile, Colyton drew a blank for a second successive week and went down 4-0 at title favourites Honiton Town. Next up for the Tanners is Saturday's visit by Newton St Cyres.

After a weekend off Axmouth United can look forward to a critical game in Division four title race. Laurie Forino's troops, still top of the table, entertain second-placed Exmouth Town Reserves on Saturday.

In the lower reaches of the league

Seaton Town Reserves suffered a second consecutive 7-1 defeat in Division Five as they were battered at mid-table Countess Wear.

In the same division Beer Albion Reserves went down 5-3 at Lapford.

Down in Division Eight Colyton Reserves beat Bamton Reserves 4-1 to move up to sixth spot.

Millwey Rise crashed out of the Challenge cup beaten 5-1 at home against Perry Street. Things started well with Sam Turner putting Millwey ahead early on.

But it was all down hill from there for Matt Hall's side who ended the game with 10 men after Matty Lewis was red-carded by referee Kelvin Charles.

Rise travel to Oxleaze to face West & Middle Chinnock on Saturday.

Elsewhere, the local derby at Hawkchurch saw the hosts squeeze out a 3-2 win over Millwey Reserves.

Jack Larcombe (2) and Gavin Herrod scored for the Hawks with Gary Sims and player-manager Simon Flint replying for Millwey. Both sides have home games at the weekend - Hawkchurch v Shepton Res and Millwey v Chard Utd Res.
